Old-Fashioned Historical Roses

MME. LOUIS LEVEQUE.
$2.25 each; 3 for $6.00

Every grown man and woman cherishes some memory of the fragrant, unsophisticated charm of the Roses of long ago. Plant and treat them as low-growing shrubs attaining a height of 3 to 5 feet, regulated by pruning or shaping when needed. Their care and culture is very simple; their hardiness unquestioned. All are full, firm-petaled, gracefully formed Roses for landscape use as well as for cutting.

$2.25 each; 3 for $6.00

CARDINAL DE RICHELIEU. 1840. Deep violet to velvety blue. Gallica.

CRAMOISI VELOUTE. 1813. The best "red" Moss Rose.

HARISON'S YELLOW. 1830. The yellow Shrub Rose of old time gardens. We have the true variety that is very scarce.

JEANNE DE MONTFORT. 1851. Silvery pink Moss Rose. This and the two other Moss Roses in this group are the finest in their class.

A bush of the lovely Old-fashioned Moss Rose, in the border at the Hershey Rose Garden, Hershey, Pa.

MME. LOUIS LEVEQUE. 1898. Salmon-pink Moss Rose.

MARIE LOUISE. 1834. Rich deep pink Damask.

TRICOLEURE DE FLANDRE. 1846. The striped Gallica of many colors.

VIERGE DE CLERY. 1888. The best white "Cabbage" Rose in existence.

Floribunda Roses

Plant these free-flowering, hardy varieties this fall for great masses of blooms in clusters all of next summer and fall. Good for both cutting and brilliant landscape effect. Use them informally in Rose beds, in permanent groups for color in the foreground of hardy shrub borders, for straight-line border or hedge planting instead of the common privet or barberry. Average growth to about 3 feet or more if desired; easily regulated by simple pruning.

The Peony—KING OF PERENNIALS

KARL ROSENFELD

FESTIVA MAXIMA

RICHARD CARVEL

21 OF THE WORLD'S BEST AND HIGHEST RATED VARIETIES

Planted in solid beds and borders along driveways and paths, Peonies not only produce dozens of blooms in striking colors during late May and June but provide good foliage all season. They are also most valuable as accent plants in the perennial border. Plant our big, healthy, 2-year undivided roots in good fresh average soil and in full sun. Years and years of Peony blooms will then be yours. Cultural information sent with every order.

DELIVERY IN SEPTEMBER, OCTOBER AND EARLY NOVEMBER. ALL 2-YEAR PLANTS (SUPERIOR TO DIVISIONS).

Peony Ratings: The rating after each variety name is the average tabulated vote by members of the American Peony Society. 10 represents absolute perfection.

Hardy Phlox

For a brilliant, bold color effect in mass during the late summer and autumn, the Hardy Phlox are indispensable. Without them it would be difficult to maintain the display of color during July and August when sometimes there is little else in bloom in the perennial border.

Simple of culture, they require only a fairly rich soil and water. The removal of flower-heads after blooms are faded will encourage new flowers from side shoots to lengthen the blooming period.

PHLOX DECUSSATA

B. COMTE. Tall-growing variety producing large heads of rich satiny red turning to amaranth. Very brilliant. Looks well planted close to a yellow-flowered plant.

CAROLINE VANDENBERG. Very showy lavender-blue flowers. A free bloomer of medium height.

DAILY SKETCH. The finest pink Phlox. Remarkable for its enormous florets and huge trusses of lovely pink with a deeper eye.

EVA FOERSTER. Very large flowers and trusses of bright salmon-rose with white eye.

FIANCEE. One of the best pure whites. A strong grower.

FLASH. Gorgeous new variety. Carmine-crimson flowers with orange-scarlet center. Blooms freely; medium height.

KATHERINE. A remarkably fine light lavender with a whitish eye.

MARY LOUISE. Glistening, waxy white flowers in extra-large heads. Prolific blooms with good foliage. One of the better whites.

ROSY BLUE. Excellent. Color as name indicates.

SPITFIRE. New. Fiery reddish orange. A very robust grower; the flowers last for weeks and do not fade during hot weather.

Colorful Hardy Azaleas

The modern trend is to color—color in your foundation planting, color everywhere in your garden. Hardy Evergreen Azaleas will color your plantings the year 'round, with vivid fresh flowers in April and May, clean green foliage all summer, autumn-bronze foliage in fall and winter.

These Azaleas are hardy in the immediate coastal area as far north as Boston. If you live inland north of New York or west of the Alleghenies, we recommend the deciduous types listed below.

For best results, do not plant after November 1. Cultural directions sent with each order.

AN ESTABLISHED PLANTING OF EVERGREEN AZALEAS

AMBERGLOW. A very lovely double, deep rose-colored flower overlaid with salmon. Excellent dark green foliage.

BENIGIRI. Produces a brilliant display of deep bright red flowers. Clean, upright habit; rapid grower.

FLAME. Single; red, suffused with copper shades. Strong, upright grower.

SNOW. Large, pure white flowers borne profusely in clusters. Beautiful glossy green foliage.

HINODEGIRI. Unquestionably the most popular of the red types. Its brilliancy and beauty when in flower is never forgotten. Considered reasonably hardy. Rounded foliage throughout the year. Its bright red flowers completely hide the foliage.

MRS. L. C. FISCHER. Our own introduction. Plant of medium growth. Semi-double flowers of salmon-pink with pleasing carmine markings.

FRUIT and SHADE TREES, LILACS, HEDGES

In this folder we have tried to choose the Roses, Perennials, Trees and Shrubs offered in our complete general catalog that should be planted this fall. There is not room for fruit trees, so we particularly call your attention to our big selection of Apple Trees and Pear Trees that should always be planted in late October through November. The same is true of our fine selection of French Hybrid Lilacs. We grow thousands of Barberry and Privet used for hedge planting. Don't forget to plant a few Shade Trees, too.
